A Faculty Enrichment Programme in the form of "Study Circle" was launched by the Faculty of Commerce and Management w.e.f the month of August. The first session of the study circle was conducted by Ms. Nikee Mehta, Teaching Assistant (MBA) and Ms. Heta Shukla, Teaching Assistant (MBA) on the topic of "Industrial Revolution".

The session commenced with Dr. Kiran Pandya, the Dean of the Faculty of Commerce and Management, providing an overview of the Study Circle's purpose and the benefits it offers to both faculty and students. Dr. Pandya introduced the day's speakers and encouraged active participation from everyone.

The presentation on the "Industrial Revolution" began with an explanation of its definition and a brief historical background, covering Industrial Revolution phases from Industry 1.0 to Industry 5.0. The presenters delved into detailed discussions of each phase, with particular emphasis on Industry 4.0, which includes significant advancements like Internet of Things, Advanced Robotics, Cloud Computing, Artificial Intelligence, Augmented Reality, and Virtual Reality. Additionally, they explored the projected developments of Industry 5.0, which are yet to come.

The session concluded with valuable suggestions from Dr. Kiran Pandya and a sincere vote of thanks from Dr. Vijay Gondaliya.
