The objective of this expert session is to guide students towards putting forth their utmost effort right from the start of their MBA journey. The speaker highlighted the distinction between 'Expectations' and 'Performance,' advocating for the practice of expecting less from others and demanding more from oneself. This approach involves placing trust in the learning process and dedicating undivided attention to one task at a time.

The talk also delved into 7 wonders which are focus, creativity, communication skills, leadership, problem solving, team work and think big. Students experienced these 7 wonders with learning by doing approach. Collectively, these seven wonders serve as the bedrock upon which future leaders can construct their career journeys. Embracing these qualities not only ensures success in the MBA realm but also equips individuals with a versatile toolkit to excel in the multifaceted landscape of post-MBA endeavors.
